SHOUTING MATCH IN OVAL OFFICE

Raging Trump humiliates Zelensky on live TV, accuses him of 'gambling with WWII' and kicks him out of the White House, blasting: 'Come back when you're ready for peace'...

A SPECTACLE TO HORRIFY THE WORLD

By Mark Nicol

AMERICA'S relationship with Ukraine exploded last night after a blockbuster row between Donald Trump and Volodymyr Zelensky.

The US President erupted in anger as a fireside chat in the White House turned into an extraordinary shouting match.

In one of the most remarkable political spectacles of recent times, the pair traded verbal blows as their countries' relationship disintegrated on live television.

In front of a worldwide audience, which doubtless included Russian president Vladimir Putin, Mr Trump and Vice-President JD Vance ganged up on Mr Zelensky. The Ukrainian president, a close ally of Britain, was later
